Call to Confession

Prayer of Confession (in unison)
Advent God,
we confess that we are not the people you hope us to be.
Too often, we ignore or ridicule the very people you favor.
We seek to admire and emulate the very people
you will bring low.
We are so focused on having more and more,
that we risk being sent away empty.
Forgive us, Mighty God, and look upon us with grace--
that we might live secure in your love,
seek to do your will,
and be people of peace,
following the example of Jesus Christ,
in whose name we pray. Amen.

Silent Confession

Words of Assurance
Liturgist: Hear the good news: Christ died for us while we were yet sinners; that proves God's love toward us. In the name of Jesus Christ you are forgiven!

as it was in the beginning,
is now, and ever shall be,
world without end. Amen. Amen.

Anthem: There is No Rose.....John Joubert
There is no rose of such virtue
as is the rose that bare Jesu: Alleluia.
For in this rose contained was heaven and earth in little space: Res miranda.

Then leave we all this worldly mirth
and follow we this joyous birth: Transeamus.

Head Usher: Barbara Cragg

Cover art by Charles Hooper.

Music Participants: Members of the Chancel Choir and Sanctuary Choir. Minister of Music, Matthew Phelps and Associate Minister of Music, Andrew Risinger, are directors and organists this morning. Patricia Cullum, soprano.

Hymnic Notes: The hymn, “Angels We Have Heard on High,” paints a beautiful image: the shepherds in a great field, staring up in wonder at a sky full of the heavenly host, singing out their praise and joy, the echoes of their song reverberating off the mountains to add to the cacophony. It isn’t hard to imagine the shepherds’ response. This group of young boys must have looked at each other wide-eyed, then whooped and cheered and run as fast as they could into the village, a stampede of sheep following them. Giddy with excitement and out of breath, did they burst into the stable and crowd around the manger? Or did they stop at the stable door, suddenly shy and overwhelmed, and peek in at the couple holding a tiny baby? Did they fully understand what they were witnessing? Do we even fully understand what they were witnessing? This hymn invites us to “Come to Bethlehem and see.” Today, we go to Bethlehem. We peek through the stable doors, and we kneel in amazement before the Christ child, our ears still ringing from the angels’ song. More so than the shepherds, we are able to see who this child is because we know the Gospel story. We know that the angels would come again, this time to announce that Christ was not where the women looked for Him, but that He had risen. It isn’t hard to imagine that a “Gloria” would have been on those angels’ lips as well.
