Call to Confession

Prayer of Confession (in unison) We do not want you to know how our lives do not proclaim your good news, God of all hearts.
But you have heard the words we have spoken that injure those we love.
You see how insistent we can be in clinging to the ways we have always lived, rather than walking your new paths.
We have trouble believing that when our souls are empty and our hearts have only a small portion of love, you can do miracles in and through us.
Let your grace shower us and end the drought of fear and doubt in our lives, so we can believe the good news that comes to us through Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior.

Hymnic Notes: The processional calls us to praise a powerful, creative, eternal, and caring God in some of the most enduring lines in English hymnody, e.g., 'Thy bountiful care . . . streams from the hills, it descends to the plain, and sweetly distills in the dew and the rain.' The author was born in India and led a distinguished public life as a lawyer, and governor of Bombay.

The recessional was written in 1965 to mark Human Rights Day in the author's church, Plymouth, UK. This observance, celebrating The Universal Declaration of Human Rights proclaimed by the United Nations General Assembly in Paris in 1948, is in one of The United Methodist Church's six church-wide Special Sundays. The tune name, CWM RHONDDA, literally means Rhondda Valley, after a coal mining district in South Wales, UK.

"Receiving"

1 Kings 17:1-16

Now Elijah the Tishbite, of Tishbe in Gilead, said to Ahab, "As the Lord the God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there shall be neither dew nor rain these years, except by my word." The word of the Lord came to him, saying, "Go from here and turn eastward, and hide yourself by the Wadi Cherith, which is east of the Jordan. You shall drink from the wadi, and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there." So he went and did according to the word of the Lord; he went and lived by the Wadi Cherith, which is east of the Jordan. The ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening; and he drank from the wadi. But after a while the wadi dried up, because there was no rain in the land. Then the word of the Lord came to him, saying, "Go now to Zarephath, which belongs to Sidon, and live there; for I have commanded a widow there to feed you." So he set out and went to Zarephath. When he came to the gate of the town, a widow was there gathering sticks; he called to her and said, "Bring me a little water in a vessel, so that I may drink." As she was going to bring it, he called to her and said, "Bring me a morsel of bread in your hand." But she said, "As the Lord your God lives, I have nothing baked, only a handful of meal in a jar, and a little oil in a jug; I am now gathering a couple of sticks, so that I may go home and prepare it for myself and my son, that we may eat it, and die." Elijah said to her, "Do not be afraid; go and do as you have said; but first make me a little cake of it and bring it to me, and afterwards make something for yourself and your son. For thus says the Lord the God of Israel: The jar of meal will not be emptied and the jug of oil will not fail until the day that the Lord sends rain on the earth." She went and did as Elijah said, so that she as well as he and her household ate for many days. The jar of meal was not emptied, neither did the jug of oil fail, according to the word of the Lord that he spoke by Elijah.
