

Opening Hymn No. 60: I'll Praise My Maker While I've Breath

- 1: I'll praise my Maker while I've breath; and when my voice is lost in death,
praise shall employ my nobler powers.
My days of praise shall ne'er be past, while life, and thought, and being last,
or immortality endures.
- 2: Happy are they whose hopes rely on Israel's God, who made the sky and earth and seas, with all their train;
whose truth forever stand secure, who save th' oppressed and feeds the poor,
for none shall find God's promise vain.
- 3: The Lord pours eyesight on the blind; the Lord supports the fainting mind and sends the laboring conscience peace.
God helps the stranger in distress, the widow and the fatherless,
and grants the prisoner sweet release.
- 4: I'll praise my God who lends me breath; and when my voice is lost in death,
praise shall employ my nobler powers.
My days of praise shall ne'er be past, while life, and thought, and being last,
or immortality endures.

Middle Hymn TFWS No. 2104: An Outcast among Outcasts (11 o'clock service)

- 1: An outcast among outcasts, dismissed with double scorn, belittled by the labels: "unclean" and "foreign born" –
came back with thanks for Jesus, and then went on his way:
An outcast among outcasts showed grateful faith that day.
- 2: An outcast among outcasts, where three were crucified,
derided by the others as the hung side by side –
came back from death with power, God had the final say:
An outcast among outcasts shows God to us today.
3. For outcasts among outcasts the boundaries are redrawn, by words, "Your faith has saved you," by cross and Easter dawn.
The distant longed-for centers of power, peace, and care,
where life is free to flourish, are found now everywhere.
